An adventure experience built around the needs of your youth.

Located in the beautiful wooded hills of Adair county in north-eastern Oklahoma, Cookson Hills Adventure Retreats are filled with exciting daytime activities including: hiking, float trips, high ropes courses, caving, and horsemanship. Combined with comfortable, climate-controlled sleeping cabins, your customized retreat provides everything you need for a great week with God in the wild. Cabins are fully furnished with a private bathroom and shower, bunk beds, and kitchenette. We can house up to 20 campers per retreat.

Experienced camp counselors will team with your sponsors to provide daily learning and adventure activities. Additionally, specially certified counselors will supervise and oversee the challenge course activities, and highly experienced licensed counselors will lead in equine (horse) assisted programs and provide added expert support as needed.

Small group interaction, experienced leaders, and service opportunities will enable campers to experience God in a more personal and intimate setting preparing them to go the distance in their pursuit of Him. This awesome week of adventure will challenge and empower them to deepen their personal and spiritual relationships.
